The University club has secured U. S. A., for an illustrated lecture His subject will be "The Main Cause of War." The matter of this address is the result of studies made while in the Army Staff college at Fort Leavenworth, Kas. Capt. Malone was they are part owners of the auto. assigned the defense of the Atlantic coast as a subject for a thesis. This ing the fact that on the night menled him to consider what occasion the tioned in the stories he was employed Atlantic coast could have to be defended; this in turn led to a consideration of the causes of a war with anyone who would attack us on the Atlantic coast.

Naturally the lecture tomorrow night will have nothing in it about the present war, as that subject is tabu for officers of the army and navy. But it will be a strong presentation of the philosophy of war which will be of great interest at this time. Capt. Malone is an orator and a deep student, a writer of magazine articles and books bearing on military life at West Point. The lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides.
